REGISTRAR-GENERAL'S REPORT

ON THE

STATISTICAL REGISTER OF QUEENSLAND

FOR THE YEAR 1866.

Registrar-General's Office,
Brisbane, 10th June, 1867.

TO THE HONORABLE ARTHUR MACALISTER, ESQUIRE, COLONIAL SECRETARY, &c., &c.

SIR,

I have the honor to forward to you, for presentation to Parliament, "THE STATISTICAL REGISTER OF THE COLONY OF QUEENSLAND, for the year ending the 31st December, 1866," together with the following comparative tables and explanatory remarks:—

PARLIAMENTARY BUSINESS.

The Fourth Session of the Second Parliament of Queensland was opened by His Excellency the Governor, in person, on the 10th of April, 1866, and was prorogued by His Excellency in person on the 23rd of October following. During this Session the Legislative Assembly sat on sixty-three days; the daily average length of each sitting being five hours and forty-three minutes.

At page 28 of the Register is published an Alphabetical Register of Public Bills originated in each branch of the Legislature, by which it appears that the number of Bills originated in the Legislative Council was six; of which four received His Excellency's assent; one was discharged from the paper; and one was not returned from the Legislative Assembly. And that in the Legislative Assembly the number of Bills originated was thirty-seven; of which twenty-two received His Excellency's assent; and fifteen were either discharged from the paper, were withdrawn, lapsed, or were not returned from the Legislative Council. Four of the above Bills, having for their objects the imposition of additional taxation, the issue of additional Treasury bills, and the issue of Treasury notes, were initiated in the Legislative Assembly by messages from His Excellency the Governor.

POPULATION.

ESTIMATED POPULATION OF QUEENSLAND ON THE 31ST DECEMBER, 1866.

Males, 57,288 ... Females, 38,884 ... Persons, 96,172.

Comparing the above estimate with the estimated population of the Colony on the 31st December, 1865, it appears that the addition made to the population during the year 1866 consists of 3,991 males, 4,406 females; altogether, of 8,397 persons.

ESTIMATED MEAN POPULATION OF THE YEAR 1866.

Males, 55,292 ... Females, 36,681 ... Persons, 91,973.

The centesimal increase in the population during the year 1866 is at the rate of 9·57 per cent.; males, 7·49 per cent.; females, 12·78 per cent. The female part of the population has, therefore, increased considerably faster than the male. This is probably explained by the number of males who left the Colony in the two last quarters of the year. On the 31st December, 1866, there were in the Colony 67·87 females to each 100 males; whereas on the 31st December, 1865, there were only 64·69 females to each 100 males.

A correct estimate of the distribution of the erratic population of Queensland can only be arrived at by means of a Census. The following table, based on the supposition that the number of names registered from any one district in the books for the Registration of Births, Marriages, and Deaths bears always a certain rateable proportion to the population of that particular district, furnishes an idea of the distribution of our population which, I believe, will hereafter prove not to be very wide of the truth. It will be observed that the total population arrived at by this method of calculation is slightly larger than the estimate formed in the usual manner. I am not, however, prepared to admit this to be an error, for the usual manner of estimating the population takes no account of the arrivals and departures overland; and, although the Colony may during the past year have lost some few by that route, there can, I think, be no doubt that it has gained in the aggregate during the three years which have expired since the taking of the last Census, on the 1st January, 1864. Be this as it may, the two estimates differ so slightly in their total result as to justify the belief that neither is much in error, especially when it is borne in mind that the difference between them, of 1,218 persons in the total population on the 31st December, 1866, is the accumulated difference of three years, each calculation going back to, and being based upon, the information supplied by the last Census.

[1] No Return for last quarter of 1866.

As regards the registered births of each of the years 1865 and 1866, the respective numbers are: in 1865, 3,532; in 1866, 4,126; the increase during the latter year being in number 594, and the centesimal ratio of increase 16·82.

The respective numbers of the registered deaths of each of those years are: in 1865, 1,733; in 1866, 2,361; the increase in the latter year being in number 628, and the centesimal ratio of increase 36·24.

Comparing the two above ratios of increase with the centesimal increase in the population during the same year 1866, it appears that the increase in births is greater by 7·25 per cent., but that deaths exceed the centesimal increase in the population, in the far greater ratio of 26·67 per cent.

In regard to the registered deaths of children, their respective numbers are in the year 1865, below two years of age, 786; two years and under five years of age, 117; total below five years of age 903; in the year 1866, the respective numbers were 1,000 below two years of age, 172 two and under five, 1,172 below five years of age; the numerical increase being, below two years of age, 214; two and under five years of age, 55; and below five years of age, 269.

The increase above pointed out as having taken place during the past year in the deaths of children is very large and far exceeds its due proportion to the increase in the population. In the case of deaths of children below two years of age, their centesimal increase exceeds the centesimal increase in the population by 17·66 per cent.; of deaths of children of two years and under five years of age in the ratio of 37·44 per cent.; and of deaths of all children under five years of age, the excess is in the ratio of 20·22 per cent.

The large mortality of the past year is by no means confined to children, but seems to have equally affected all ages; for, deducting from the total recorded deaths of all ages the number of deaths of children below five years of age, the remainder shows that the deaths of the last year of persons of five years and upwards of age exceed the centesimal increase in the population by no less than 33·68 per cent.

As a necessary result of the above large mortality, it follows, in spite of the large number of births recorded, that the centesimal ratio of increase in the population derived from the registered births and deaths is smaller last year than usual, the respective rates for the last three years being: 1864, 2·33 per cent.; 1865, 2·39 per cent.; 1866, 2.01 per cent.

The last of the preceeding tables, lettered G, records the marriages celebrated in each of the years 1865 and 1866. It will be observed, that they have during the past year not only not kept pace with the increasing population, but that they show an absolute, although small, diminution in their number of 7. The only religious denominations which show any noteworthy increase are the Church of England, the Wesleyan Methodists, and the Lutheran; and the increase they show is more than counter-balanced by the small number celebrated by the Church of Rome, the Presbyterians, and the Baptists. The number of marriages legalized under the Registration Act has slightly increased.

IMMIGRATION.

The number of Immigrants from Europe who landed in this Colony during the year 1866 was smaller than in the previous year. The following (Table H) is an abstract from the Immigration Returns published at pages 97 and 98 of the Register, and gives the total number of arrivals during the past year at 9,846 persons :—

H.

Description of Ships.	No. of Ships.	No. of Persons Landed.	Equal to Statute Adults.
Black Ball Ships	7	7,381	6,361

Ships chartered by Emigration Commissioners...	4	1,157	1,085½
Short Ships	2	4	4
TOTAL	27	9,846	8,542

The mortality on board the above ships was as follows :—

I.

Description of Ships.	No. of Deaths.	Centesimal Proportion of Deaths to Numbers Embarked.	Remarks.
Black Ball Ships	205	2·78	In addition to the Deaths on board ship, 36 Deaths occurred while in quarantine, not included in this Return.
German Ships...	78	5·98
Ships chartered by Emigration Commissioners ...	4	0·34
Short Ships	...	...
TOTAL	287	2·91

The value of Land Orders issued during the year 1866 is :—

	£	s.	d.
Non-transferable	39,825	0	0
Transferable	105,844	10	0
TOTAL	£145,669	10	0

It appears by returns compiled by the Customs authorities that the increase to the population, arising last year from excess of arrivals over departures by sea, was 6,632 persons; and as the above immigration returns show an European immigration of 9,846, it follows that, during that period, the Colony lost, by intercolonial arrivals and departures, 3,214 persons from its population.

EDUCATION.

A return of Primary Schools, under the supervision of the Board of General Education, for the year ending 31st December, 1866, is published at folio 119 of the Register, from which "comparing it with the return for the year 1865," it appears that the number of schools has increased from 31 to 39, and that the aggregate attendance of scholars has increased from 6,383 to 7,939, being at the centesimal rate of 24·38. The expenditure for salaries and rent has increased from £6,598 9s. 9d. to £7,690 17s. 6d., being at the centesimal rate of 16·55. It follows, therefore, that the expenditure, in proportion to the aggregate attendance of scholars, is smaller in the year 1866 than in the preceding year; and, also, that the attendance of pupils bears, in the year 1866, a slightly larger relative proportion to the population than in the year 1865.

As regards the return of Private Schools, published in the Register at folio 120, it seems, on comparison with the return for 1865, that a considerable increase has occurred in their numbers and in the number of pupils attending them. The relative number of schools is 70 in 1865, 90 in 1866—the increase being at the rate of 28·57 per cent. Of scholars, the number is 2,708 in 1865, 3,016 in 1866—the increase being at the rate of 11·40 per cent. This return also shows that the ratio of increase both in the number of private schools, as well as in the aggregate number of scholars attending them, is larger than the rate of increase of the population.

CRIME.

The following three tables, lettered J, K, L, are summaries of returns of criminal trials and convictions before the Central Criminal Court holden at Brisbane, and the Circuit Courts of the Colony; (2nd) of trials and convictions before the District Courts of the Colony; (3rd) the Criminal business of the Courts of Petty Sessions; further details being given at pages 75, 78, and 79 of the Register.

COURTS of PETTY SESSIONS, 1866.

Offences.	Taken into Custody.	Committed for Trial.	Convicted Summarily.	Discharged.	Total.
Against Person	426	54	238	134	426

All other offences	437	22	278	137	437
	4,583	295	3,047	1,241	4,583

Comparing the above with the Crime Tables of the year 1865, it will be observed that the total number of persons taken into custody by the Courts of Petty Sessions has diminished somewhat in the latter year, the principal diminution being under the heads of drunkenness and vagrancy. In the year 1863, the proportion of persons taken into custody by the Police and dealt with by the Courts of Petty Sessions was 5·44 to each 100 persons in the Colony; in the year 1864 the proportion was 5·73 to each 100 persons; in 1865 the proportion was 5·79; and in the year 1866 it was 4·77, showing a marked diminution in the number taken into custody. On the other hand, the number of offences tried before the Central Criminal, Circuit, and District Courts has considerably increased. In 1865 the total number tried before the superior Courts of the Colony was 136, of whom 99 were convicted; in the year 1866 the number tried was 290, of whom 178 were convicted; the number of convictions being nearly twice as great in the latter as in the former year.

Out of 4,583 persons taken into custody by the Police during the year 1866, it will be observed that the large number of 3,609 could both read and write, that 290 could read but not write, and that 684 could neither read or write; the centesimal proportions being of those who can both read and write 78·75, of those who can read but not write 6·33, and and of those who can neither read or write 14·92 per cent. of the total number taken into custody

BANKS.

Government Savings' Bank.

Full returns of the business of this establishment for the year 1866, being the second year of its existence, are published in the Register, at pages 80, 81, and 82.

The benefits and advantages afforded by this Bank have, during the course of the two years of its existence, been extended to most of the towns of the Colony, by the establishment of Branch Offices, and have been largely availed of by the public. On the 31st December, 1865, there stood in the books of the Bank the sum of £56,582 2s. 9d., to the credit of 1,803 depositors; on the 31st December, 1866, this sum had increased to £86,759 1s. 6d., and was to the credit of 2,484 depositors. This is a very rapid increase, and if reference be had to the great scarcity and high value of money during, at any rate, the greater part of last year, the amount deposited must, in proportion to the population of the colony, be considered unusually large. The number of depositors has increased at the rate of 37·77 per cent., and the amount deposited at the rate of 53·33 per cent., on the respective number and amount of the year 1865.

Joint Stock Banks.

The following table gives the aggregate Banking transactions of the several private banks carrying on business in the Colony, for each quarter of each year since the 1st of January, 1860, Looking to the last quarter of each year it will be seen that notes in circulation, bills in circulation, and discounts, have all diminished greatly since the corresponding quarter of the previous year—notes at the rate of 43·05; bills at the rate of 111·10; and discounts at the rate of 6·12 per cent; whilst on the other hand, coin and bullion have increased, the former at the rate 13·27, and the latter at the rate of 18·19 per cent. Deposits have diminished at the rate of 2·71 per cent.; but, in as much as under this heading are included balances of accounts current not bearing interest, as well as fixed deposits bearing interest, the information derived therefrom is not of much value. To give their full value to the above changes it must be borne in mind that the population of the Colony has, during the same space of time, increased at the rate of 9·57 per cent.

To complete an estimate of the banking transactions of the past year, it is necessary to take into account the issue of notes by the Government, as provided for by the Queensland Act of Parliament 30th Victoria, No. 11, which Act came into operation on the 1st November, 1866. By reference to the return published at page 114 of the Register it will be seen that on the 31st of December, 1866, the total value of said notes in circulation was £24,697; adding this sum to the notes circulated by the private banks, makes the total note circulation of the Colony, on the 31st December, 1866, to have been £151,654 6s. 6d., or £33,842 10s. 11d. smaller in amount than the note circulation at the end of the previous year 1865.

LIVE STOCK.

RETURN of the LIVE STOCK in the COLONY OF QUEENSLAND.

Horses, 52,311 ... Cattle, 919,414 ... Sheep, 7,278,778 ... Pigs, 13.529.

The above return, so far as the number of sheep is concerned, is compiled partly from information collected by the Police, and partly from returns forwarded to the Treasury by the owners of sheep stations, in compliance with the Queensland Act of Parliament 27th Victoria, No. 2, Scab in Sheep Act. The returns furnished in compliance with this Act of Parliament are made up to the 31st June of each year, and therefore wherever I have had to use them the number of sheep returned in that district is probably somewhat smaller than would have been the case had the return been made up to the 31st of December following; it is only in those instances where no returns have been received from the Police, that I have had recourse to the Treasury returns, as supplying the best information within my reach. Comparing the above return with that of the year 1865, it appears by the following table N that a fair increase has taken place in each description of stock, except pigs.

Further detailed information of the quantity of Live Stock in each district of the Colony for the two years 1865 and 1866, showing the numerical and centesimal increase in each, is given in the following table:—

[1] No Returns having been received from this district, the number of Sheep is taken from the sworn returns furnished to the Treasury.
[2] Only eleven stations in this district have sent in returns.
[3] The number of Sheep given is taken from the returns furnished to the Treasury.

I have on former occasions alluded to the unsatisfactory condition in which the Live Stock and Agricultural returns reach this office, and a reference to the foregoing table, and to the notes at foot thereof, do not show much improvement. From two districts no returns whatever have been forwarded, and in one the horses and cattle are given but not the sheep. Such omissions as these necessarily tend to shake confidence in correctness of the returns from the other districts. I do not think that the fault lies this year with the Police, who as far as I can judge appear to have exerted themselves to make the returns as perfect as lay in their power. It is to be hoped that the value of speedy and reliable statistical information about subjects of such grave importance to the Colony as the state of its Agriculture and the increase or decrease of its Live Stock will shortly be so generally recognised in Queensland as to lead to the discontinuance of the present imperfect means of collection, and the substitution of some more effective and reliable plan for obtaining the desired returns.

In the year 1865 the total quantity of land sold was 145,799 acres, which realised the sum of £224,403. There is therefore a falling off in the quantity sold in the year 1866 of 32,201 acres, and in the amount realised, in the sum of £83,078; the diminution in the area sold being at the rate of 22·09 per cent., and in the value thereof at the rate of 37·02 per cent. It is worthy of remark that the quantity of land sold by public auction is larger by 4,979 acres in the year 1866 than in the year 1865, and that the great falling off in the total quantity sold is found under the head of Pre-emptive sales, the respective quantities sold being 101,856 acres in 1865, and 62,548 acres in 1866.

The quantity of land alienated in fee by the Crown within the limits of, and since the foundation of the present Colony of Queensland amounted, on the 31st December, 1866, to 616,293 acres. The following table, Q, gives the quantity of land sold by public auction in each Commissioner's district during each of the years 1864, 1865, and 1866.

Q.

Year.	Moreton.	Darling Downs.	Port Curtis.	Wide Bay and Burnett.	Kennedy.	Leichhardt.	Maranoa.	Total.
	A.	A.	A.	A.	A.	A.	A.	A.
1864	25,508	5,652	4,809	1,518	3,676	9	21	41,194
1865	23,435	5,967	1,850	2,038	2,261	237	267	36,058
1866	20,787	11,024	2,394	2,044	3,420	443	922	41,037

The total quantity of land under the provisions of the Real Property Act of 1861 was, on the 31st December, 1865, 426,833 acres 1 rood 10½ perches; to this must be added, as the result of last year's operations, the further quantity of 127,942 acres 1 rood 10½ perches, making a total of land under the above Act, on the 31st December, 1866, of 554,775 acres 2 roods and 21 perches. The total quantity of land within the limits of the Colony alienated in fee by the Crown, before and since separation, amounted, on the 31st December, 1866, to 694,345 acres. The proportion which the land under the provisions of the Real Property Act bears to the whole quantity of land alienated in fee by the Crown was, on the 31st December, 1866, 79·90 per cent., that is to say, that out of each 100 acres alienated as above by the Crown very nearly 80 acres are under the provisions of the above Real Property Act.

As the quantity of land not under the above Act each year diminishes, it necessarily follows that the year's applications to bring portions of it under the Act become less numerous; on the other hand, the various dealings with land already under the Act rapidly increase.

increase on 14,414 acres, the quantity returned as under cultivation on the 31st December, 1865; the per centage of increase is 69·51.

The principal heads under which this increase is most apparent are maize, cotton, and hay or dry fodder. Cotton especially shows an average nearly sixfold greater than was the case in the year 1865; the Brisbane, Ipswich, Logan, and Maryborough Districts, are those which have mainly produced the increase in cotton. Although the returns of land under sugar cultivation show in the aggregate an increase of about 50 per cent. on the quantity returned in the year 1865, the total amount is small and it will doubtless be observed that a decrease appears in the Brisbane district, arising from a large plantation having been allowed during the past year temporarily to fall out of cultivation.

Under this head it may be as well to draw attention to last year's importations of grain and other agricultural productions of those descriptions capable of being grown in the colony.

SHIPPING.

The Shipping returns for the year 1866 show a considerable increase during the year in the number of ships trading to Queensland. This increase has principally taken place in the intercolonial commerce. The total numbers of ships entered inwards and cleared outwards, with their aggregate tonnage and crews, are given below for each of the years 1865 and 1866.

The nationality of all ships trading to or from the Colony during the year 1866, is given in the following table.

The country from whence the above ships have arrived, or whither they have sailed, as well as the particular port in Queensland which they entered or left, will be found by reference to the shipping tables published at pages 99 and 101 of the Register.

TRADE.

The estimated value of the Exports and Imports by sea of the year 1866, is—

Imports by sea £2,467,907
Exports by sea £1,366,491

of the overland trade with the neighboring colonies no record is at present obtainable.

Comparing the above returns with those for the year 1865, it appears that during the year 1866 the Imports have diminished in value by £37,652, or at the rate of 1·50 per cent. on the Imports of the year 1865; and that exports have increased in value by £213,027, or at the rate of 18·46 per cent. on the exports of the year 1865.

A further examination of the trade returns for the last two years shows that the exportation of goods which are the produce or the manufacture of Queensland have increased in estimated value during the year 1866 by the sum of £175,922, or at the rate of 15·73 per cent. on the similar exports of the year 1865; and that the re-exportation of goods the produce or the manufacture of other countries or colonies has increased in the year 1866 by the sum of £37,105, or at the rate of 103·89 per cent. on the value of similar exports in the year 1865.

By the above table it appears that the direct trade of the colony with Great Britain has increased under the heads of both Imports and Exports, the former at the rate of 4·11 per cent. and the latter at the rate of 33·17 per cent.; while the trade with the other Australian Colonies has under the head of Imports diminished at the rate of 4·03 per cent., and of Exports has increased at the rate of 12·61 per cent.

The value of the following table, showing the yearly quantity and estimated value of wool exported from Queensland since its formation as a Colony, is much diminished by no distinction having been made between washed and unwashed wool. Last year for the first time this distinction is drawn, and will in future years be of much service.

It will be seen by the foregoing table that the export of wool in the year 1866 was larger than in the previous year. The difference in quantity shipped was 2,094,398lbs., being an increase at the rate of 17·09 per cent. on the quantity exported in the year 1865; the increase in the estimated value is £102,360, being at the rate of 11·56 per cent. on the estimated value of the previous year, 1865. The difference observable in the respective centesimal rates of increase of the quantity and value of wool shipped arises from a smaller average rate of value per pound having been given to the wool in the latter year. In the year 1865 the average estimated value was 17·34d. per pound, in 1866 it was 16·52d. per pound.

Many causes, arising from the weather, the state of the roads, the labor market, &c., &c., disturb the yearly estimates of wool exported, and tend improperly to increase or diminish the shipments of each individual year. The safest way to calculate the increase is to take the average yearly rate of increase of the whole number of years over which the table extends, this average will be found to be 31·08 per cent. per annum.

The quantity and estimated value of cotton exported in 1866 is greater than in the year 1865. The quantity shipped in 1866 was 207,272lbs., and its estimated value £19,618, showing an increase on the previous year of 61,452lbs., estimated to be of the value of £7,421. These figures are still small, and deserve notice principally as showing the commencement and growth of an industry likely to become hereafter of great importance.

Next to wool the largest increase in any export of Queensland produce is to be found under the head "live stock," the total estimated value being £38,948, the increase on the shipments of the year 1865, being estimated at £32,544. Provisions and copper ore also show a large increase on the shipments of 1865; the former of £16,503, and the latter of £15,478. The value of the exports and imports by sea from or to each port in the Colony, is given in the following table:—

The following return of sheep, which have crossed the frontier of Queensland on their way to other colonies, during the year 1866, did not reach me in time to be placed in its proper place among the tables printed in the Register:—

From the District of Warwick	41,770
Ditto ditto Moonie	59,766
Ditto ditto Warrego	54,200
Ditto ditto Paroo	17,080
Ditto ditto Goondiwindi	183,050
TOTAL	355,866

The frontier Inspector, by whom the above was compiled, states that the returns from Goondiwindi are imperfect, and that he believes 400,000 would be nearer the total number of sheep exported across the frontier during the year 1866. Taking the return as it stands, and valuing the sheep at the low average, for the year 1866, of nine shillings per head, the sum of £160,139 14s. is produced, and should be added to the Customs returns for the past year, raising the estimated value of the exports during that period from £1,366,491 to £1,526,630; and also raising the value of exported live stock from £38,948 to £199,087 14s. Many head of cattle are also known to have crossed the frontier, but no account has been kept of their number. It is hoped that in future years more attention will be paid to the collection of these important returns.

REVENUE.

RECEIPTS and EXPENDITURE of the Year ending 31st DECEMBER, 1866.

Receipts during the year, including Land Orders received in payment of Land purchased from the Crown.	Expenditure during the year, including Land Orders negotiated.
£ s. d.	£ s. d.

The expenditure of the year 1866, charged to the Consolidated Revenue Fund, exceeds the receipts of that year by the sum of £103,860 4s. 6d., irrespective of a further expenditure during the year, and charged to the Loan Fund, of £965,346 2s. 6d.

Comparing the above receipts and expenditure with those of the year 1865, the following are the total results :—

The receipts of the year 1866, as given above, appear to be smaller than the receipts of the year 1865, by the sum of £38,463 7s. 1d.; this diminution is attributable to a large decrease in the Land Revenue of the past year, and to the receipts of the previous year having been credited with the sum of £21,664 16s. 8d., as premium on debentures sold during that year, an item which does not appear in the year 1866.

The following table enables an accurate comparison of the two years' receipts to be made :—

The above receipts, compared with the mean population of the Colony for each of the years 1865 and 1866, are, for the year 1865, at the rate of £7 16s. 1·1d. per head, and, for the year 1866, at the rate of £6 8s. 11·2d. per head.

REVENUE DERIVED FROM THE CROWN LANDS OF THE COLONY.

This item of revenue is divisible into two parts; first, the amount realised by the alienation in fee of portions of the said lands, and which, strictly speaking, is not revenue; and, secondly, the amount realised as annual rent, or assessment, for other portions of the said lands, the fee thereof still remaining in the Crown.

The following is a return of the amounts received in payment for land sold by the Crown during each of the first seven years of the Colony's existence, distinguishing cash payments from payments made in land orders :—

Year.	Amount received in Cash.	Amount received in Land Orders.	Total amount received from the sale of Crown Lands.
1860	45,955 7 5	...	45,955 7 5

1863	40,007 2 3	95,607 15 3	135,614 17 6
1864	57,698 17 11	133,031 3 4	190,730 1 3
1865	59,461 0 0	158,970 9 1	218,431 9 1
1866	29,393 18 7	102,217 5 11	131,611 4 6

By the above table, the year 1866 shows a serious falling-off in its receipts derived from the sale of land, especially in that portion of them which were paid in cash. The centesimal rate of decrease in the total amount received in that year is 39·74, and in the cash portion of the receipts is 50·56.

Under the second of the above parts, namely, the one referring to rents and assessments, the receipts during each of the last seven years are given in the following table :—

1860.	1861.	1862.	1863.	1864.	1865.	1866

A steady annual increase is shown in the above return, the receipts of the year 1866 being rather more than double those of the year 1860.

REVENUE DERIVED FROM DUTIES COLLECTED BY THE CUSTOMS.

The Revenue collected by the Customs was last year larger than on any previous year, not, however, to be attributed to a larger importation of dutiable articles, but to a great addition having, during the year, been made to the scale of duties.

The following is a table showing the amount collected by the Customs during each of the last seven years, and the rateable proportion each year's collections bear to the mean population of such year :—

Year.	Mean Population of the Year.	Customs Receipts.	Average per head of the mean Population.	REMARKS. Acts of Queensland Parliament, imposing additional Customs Duties.
		£ s. d.	£ s. d.
1860 ...	27,017	59,210 3 7	2 3 9¾
1861 ...	31,886	71,678 18 11	2 5 7
1862 ...	40,593	96,107 11 8	2 7 4¼
1863 ...	53,970	125,199 6 11	2 6 4¾
1864 ...	67,181	153,341 19 6	2 5 7¾	28 Vic., No. 16, Export tax on Gold.
1865 ...	80,905	195,540 15 1	2 8 4·06	29 Vic., No. 2, increased import duties on Wines and Spirits.
1866 ...	91,973	223,384 13 11	2 8 6·75	30 Vic., No. 9 and No. 15, ad valorem and other import duties.

It is remarkable that, in spite of the great addition made last year to our import duties, the average receipts per head of the mean population should be almost exactly the same as in the previous year, the year's increase in population and in Customs receipts having maintained precisely the same centesimal rate.

It is difficult to estimate correctly the real difference in the Customs receipts attributable to increased taxation, for there can be no question that the imposition of a heavy ad valorem duty has materially diminished the estimated value placed by importers on their imports. A calculation founded therefore on the proportion that the Customs duties received during any previous year or years bore to the estimated value of the imports of that year or years, is necessarily disturbed in the case of last year, by the different scale of valuation adopted by importers since the passing of the Queensland Acts of Parliament, 30 Victoria, No. 9, and 30 Victoria, No. 15.

EXPENDITURE CHARGED TO CONSOLIDATED REVENUE FUND.

The total expenditure of the year 1866, charged to the above account, exceeds that of the year 1865 by the sum of £78,832 7s. 3d. This difference is far more than accounted for by the following items, most of them the unavoidable consequences of previous legislation, and others having no previous existence, and not being likely to recur again.

	£	s.	d.
Interest on debentures in excess of the amount paid in 1865	53,929	13	1
Payments under Schedule B in excess of the amount paid in 1865	7,328	0	9

„ Charitable Institutions	17,281	2	11
Total	£136,856	19	8

Compared with the mean population of each of the years 1865 and 1866, the total expenditure each year, charged to the Consolidated Revenue Fund, is for the year 1865 at the rate of £7 12s. 9·22d. per head, and for the year 1866 at the rate of £7 11s. 6·34d. per head.

PUBLIC DEBT.

The total amount of the public debt of the Colony of Queensland was, on the 31st December, 1865, £1,135,550. During the year 1866, Debentures representing the sum of £718,750 were sold, as well as Treasury Bills representing the sum of £300,000.

The total debt of the Colony on the 31st December, 1866, was £2,150,300. This debt, compared with the mean population of the Colony during that year, is at the rate of £23 7s. 7·12d. per head; and the annual interest payable thereon (the debentures bearing six per cent., and the Treasury Bills ten per cent. per annum), amounting to £141,018, is at the rate of £1 10s. 7·98d. per head of the mean population of the past year.

The various foregoing calculations, under the general head of Revenue, are based solely on the Statement of Revenue and Expenditure of the Colony during the year 1866, published at pages 129 to 155 inclusive of the Register, prepared and compiled by the Auditor-General of the Colony, and presented to both Houses of Parliament by command of His Excellency the Governor.

I have the honor to be, Sir,
Your most obedient Servant,
F. O. DARVALL,
Registrar-General.
